in fact, value for value, it is one of the cheapest drinks and one of the most economical foods that can be obtained A cup of hot Boyril costs less than a drink of whisky, and while giving a more genuine and lasting warmth than the latter, contains, in addition, the nutritive principles of beef worth many times its cest. Old fashioned beef teas and mest ex-racts, whether known as such, or disguised under more pretentious modern names PARIS contain none of the NUTRITIVE properties of beef. Baron Liebig himself admitted this fact; there is not a doctor to day disputes it. Used as a nourishment Meat Extract is probably the most expensive article one can buy. Bovril one of the cheapest.

We commend the following anecdote of the late Archbishop of Canterbury to the harmonious souls of St. John's :- The Primate's voice was not only rough of sound and Devonian in accent, but it was also devoid of all tune. Dr Joseph Cook, of Boston, himself eminent for certain qualities that he commends in Dr Pentecost, wrote in 1885 concerning the latter's association in Boston with Mr Moody, the great Evangelist: 'It is well known that, whenever Mr Moody was obliged to be absent from the great assemblies or the enquiry rooms of the Boston Tabernacle, Mr Pentecost was the only man who could fill the gap. I heard Mr Pentecost several times in those days and rejoiced greatly in his remarkable endow ments and their employment in the service of Biblical truth. Of Dr Pentecont' 'Hints on Bible Reading,' published 1885, the same competent authority r marks :- They have a precious aroms of of the best passages of Bengel's Gnomon, a conjunction with Thomas Davis and John work for many generations renownedamong scholars not less for its piety than Mr Duffy's contributions to which, the for its learning. His knowledge of Society and of human nature has been widened to a breadth very uncommon, as I believe, in a man of years, and is consecrated wholly to th service of an undiluted and aggressiv Christianity." - Contributed.

LONDON LETTER. (From Our Dun Correspondent.) LONDON, January 9. In honour of the marriage of the Rt. Hon. W. St. John Brodrick, Secretary of State for War, and Miss Madeleine Stanley, the daughter of Lady Joune, St. George's, Hanover Square, was exquisitely decorated with white flowers and greenery which transformed the usually somewhat sombre edifice into a veritable fairy dell, while the drab and scarlet uniforms of the South Surrey Imperial Yeomanry, who lined the aisle, gave the touch of colour to relieve any appearance of insipidity. The bride, who was dressed in delicate white chiffon, with a deep, accordion-pleated, vandyked flounce falling over frills of chiffon, the bodice having a yoke and under sleeves of rare old Brussels lace, and the train consisting of gathered chiffon with a shawl of point de Venise lace laid down the right side, was given away by her stepfather, Sir Francis Jeune, and the Rt. The bridesmaids included Lady Edwina The French War Minister has forbidden Roberts, daughter of the Commander-in-Chief, Lady Alexandra Beauclerk, Lady Evelyn-Hely Hutchinson and a daughter of the bridegroom. The fortunate couple were the recipients of over 600 presents, that from the King consisting of a silver-gilt inkstand. Princess-Christian gave a moleskin coat and muff, which was worn by the bride with

THIRD DAY-TRUBSDAY, 12TR FEBRUARY. The outstanding feature of the Race Meeting this year was the lack of interest. There seems to have been an unaccountable falling off of enthusiasm among the general public; even the pari-mutuel could not arouse any widespread feeling of interest; and so the Meeting, while it provided a pleasant enough outing, could not be voted a great success regarded from one point of view. For this the Stewards of the Jockey Clubare not, apparently, responsible. All the arrangements for the Meeting were asperfect as ever, in fact, there were some improvements for which those responsible deserve the highest praise. The barriers outside the weighing room gave the public a better chance of seeing the complete board of entribs and riders, before risking their money, and the system of making each horse carry its programme number on the saddle cloth was a great help to those who failed to follow the training and were unfamiliar with the favourities. Mr A. S. Acting Clerk of the Course, being absent during a considerable portion | Mr Robert Shewan's Ifrit, 11st 11b, ... of the training season, the completion of the arrangements fell chiefly upon Messrs E. W. Rutter, J. H. Lewis, G. C. C. Master H. P. White, who certainly did all in their power to make the Meeting a success. The secretarial work was efficiently carried out by Mr John Grant, Secretary. Fortunately, the weather was Dull and overcast though it was on the opening day, the atmosphere was not too cold, and yesterday and to-day the sun lent his genial warmth to enhance the comfort of the spectators. The scene inside the paddock to-day was most attractive. It was the Ladies' Day. and charming as had been the toilets on

THE GAIETY GIRL.

That afternoon when Leslie Stuart and George Edwards met in the antercom the now-famed house of comedy, nobody, including the musician and the most po-3 pular manager at this moment in London, thought that the ten minutes' chat would evolve into a sort of stage revolution. Bu it did. And afterwards Stuart made his his in Soldiers of the Queen. The Gaiety Girl was the first and the best of the Edwardian ladies. and although the Shop Girl beat her in subsequent popularity for the moment, she has not held that place. Of last night's Cruickshank O performance by the Pollard children, we have nothing that is not good to say. The American style of interpolating extra items does not jar with the spirit of plays bundle behind her. Then Chee Sai got from the front went well. The triple encore sway, but Master brought his mount ahead | was deserved. The Irish Fisherwoman Daphne's 'topical,' were the pick of the lyrics as rendered. Tommy Atkins was applauded, but Miss Trott should do better in it. It is unnecessary to speak in detail of the various members of the cast; all did wonderfully well, apart from the fact that they were child-players, and the packed house cheered every situation and every song. The Guiety Girl will be repeated, tonight.

The Shanghai Mercury of the 6th inst. refor inches as per scale. One mile and a ports: - Intense excitement prevailed among the Chinese here again to-day on account of the announcement having been made that a large number of forged Imperial Bank of China bank notes had been put into circulation. The amount is said to be about $300,000, mostly in $10 bills, and the forgery is supposed to have been carried out in Japan, the notes being sent here Pandur won fairly easily. A length for disposal. The imperfection of the forged notes, we believe, is in the numbering., Early this morning the Bank was besieged by Chinese, clamouring for admittance to change their notes into silver or to have them verified as good, all pushing and struggling to be first inside. To wards noon the Bund opposite the Bank was growded with more or less excited Chinese and the Police from Central Station had to be called upon to regulate the

Quite a sea of heads could be seen China griffing which have run and not in the Bank's back premises, but excellent order was kept by the Police who superintended the influx and efflux. The Bank kept paying out silver all the afternoon quite calmly. There was a little excitement apparent in front of the Bank among Europeans who were stopping in ricshas and carriages and rushing inside only to reappear looking more assured. Knots of Chinese gathered in many parts of the Bank round those who had either good or bad notes which were passed from hand to hand undergoing critical examination. We believe that about a couple of laca were paid out to-day by the Bank. A rumour was current that an arrest was effected last night in connection with the forgery, but we learn that no one has yet been arrested
